NACAA Press Statement on EPA's Final Rule for Greenhouse Gas Emissions from Light and Medium Duty Vehicles

“NACAA welcomes EPA’s strengthening of its multipollutant emission standards for light- and medium-duty vehicles. Today’s final rule represents an important step by EPA in fulfilling its obligation to implement meaningful federal regulatory actions to effectively reduce air pollution that endangers public health and the planet. It is also important that EPA has not impeded or slowed the leadership shown by states that are reducing these vehicles’ emissions even faster and more deeply. We look forward to future opportunities to work with EPA on other federal measures to cut mobile source emissions nationwide.” - Miles Keogh, Executive Director, National Association of Clean Air Agencies (NACAA)
